ABOUT NUMEROLOGY

WHAT IS NUMEROLOGY?

Numerology, as you are likely aware, is the study of numbers and their symbolism. This is a fascinating science (and art!), because everything in existence can be broken down into numbers, including words and the names of people, places, and things.

As mathematicians say, "Numbers are the universal language," and numerology translates this language to reveal an underlying order and pattern to things we cannot see or understand at first glance.

The term "Numerology" was first coined by Dr. Julia Seton in a book she published around 1937. Before this, numerical divination was referred to as the Science of Numbers or Arithmancy. Most ancient sources of divination involved some type of numerical system. The Arabs, Indians, Greeks, Chaldeans, Mayans and religions such as Taoism, have all relied on different systems and methods of Numerology throughout history and still today, with the help of a well-rounded and conscientious practitioner, it can bring profound wisdom into your life.

Numerology is an intuitive and reliable way to study your experiences in the world. You can uncover secrets that lead to self-knowledge, and you might even find that underlying cycles and patterns start to appear. Understanding these patterns can help you align with the cycles of nature so you can flow with the current of life, instead of against it. Learning this tool can also help you read people and see what makes them tick. Numerology is an excellent road map that can show you how to navigate the course of daily life.

Numerology emphasizes your strengths and helps you to overcome your weaknesses. It can be utilized as a guide to seize opportunities that you might otherwise miss. Understanding how numbers work in your life will awaken your inner "soul" or "spirit" and allow you to get in touch with your sixth sense. By putting a little time and effort into studying this fascinating subject, your life will run more smoothly, and it will be easier to create the future you deserve.

YOUR NUMEROLOGY GLOSSARY

Throughout the upcoming report, you will be introduced to new words and terms that are specific to the study of Numerology.

In order to make it a little easier for you to understand your personal Numerology Chart, we've put together a glossary of the terms you'll come across. Feel free to reference this glossary anytime you come across a term you're unsure of.

Fadic Numbers:

These are the single digit numbers from one to nine. When a larger number sums to a single number, the Fadic number of that vibration is the final total.

Example of Fadic Numbers: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9

Example of Reduced Fadic Numbers:

7 + 8 = 15

Then,

1 + 5 = 6

Karmic Numbers:

This term describes the numbers 13, 14, 16 and 19, which have special characteristics discrete from their Fadic number, or the digits that make them up.

Master Numbers:

This term describes all "doubled" numbers, from 11 - 99. They possess characteristics that are entirely different from either the single digit, Fadic Number. In the case of this report, we consider 11 and 22 Master Numbers worth studying.

Example of Master Numbers:

11 and 22

Compound Numbers:

Any of the numbers from 10 to 98 that are neither Karmic nor Master Numbers. They are usually defined via a combination of their individual digits and their Fadic Number, and don't possess special or individual characteristics.

DETERMINING CONSONANTS & VOWELS IN YOUR READING

There is a some debate in Numerology circles about whether "y" and "w" are vowels or consonants. Most Numerology books count both letters as consonants, but most of these books do not take into account certain language-specific factors. Some argue that "w" is a consonant on the grounds that it was adapted from the “double V” letter used in a few European languages; on the other hand, in English it is called “double U”, where "u" is a vowel. Strictly speaking, w and y are what are known as “glides” or “semivowels.” These are letters which in pronunciation sound similar to vowels, but otherwise function as consonants within the word. This is always true for w in English, where it does not usually appear in the places that vowels are normally found; the same is generally true for y, with the exception that it can function as a vowel in one context, specifically at the end of a word. There are a few Numerologists who recognize this, and therefore always use these two letters as consonants.

We are aware of only one researcher, Kevin Quinn Avery, D.Ms., who provides a functional solution to this problem. In his incredible textbook, The Numbers of Life, he posits the following rules: first, y is considered a vowel if it is adjacent to a vowel (as in ‘money’) or if it occupies the vowel slot in a syllable (as in ‘happy’). w is considered a vowel when it is adjacent to and sounded as part of another vowel (as in ‘brawl’). These rules are, of course, based on modern English; however, it is a good working solution to this problem, and by using this method the classification of the semivowels y and w becomes more straightforward.

Having said all of the above, in Numerology, Astrology and other kinds of esoteric inquiry, there is only one steadfast rule: that of experience. Indicators should be specific, and applied objectively to the subject of inquiry. In other words, the information associated with numbers should naturally describe the character of the person under investigation; it should not be manipulated to make them fit. In the end, we have found in over 30 years of research and across thousands of case studies that the information associated with the Soul Urge and Personality Number (as discrete subjects of inquiry) best align with an individual’s character when y and w are counted as vowels.

At Numerologist.com, we use the Pythagorean numerology system to calculate your personal readings. Pythagoras was a well known philosopher and scientist who believed that "all things are numbers". In other words, he tapped into the greater awareness that everyone and everything vibrates at a certain frequency, and numbers are a method used to measure and communicate these frequencies.

From his theory, the Pythagorean Alphabet was born and this is the alphabet we use to calculate your personal readings.

The Pythagorean Alphabet is unique because it assigns a certain numerical value to each number of the alphabet. Here's a breakdown of the values assigned to each letter using this system:

THE SECRET MEANING OF YOUR NAME

THE SECRET MEANING OF YOUR NAME

According to a number of mystical doctrines, all words have power. In some traditions, words have the power to create and destroy, and you may have encountered this phenomenon when interacting with people who possess great personal power. Words identify and describe objects, actions and states in such a way that the most complex concepts can be explained to those who haven't experienced them directly by merely choosing the right words to use. In many traditional societies, and even in the worlds of modern academics, business and science, the words you use define your level of knowledge and experience. It might be said that words are keys with which we create different kinds of experience — they are keys that open the doors to the life you want.

The most important thing to know about words is that they are something we use consciously every day - words are a control system for our personal magic. This may seem obvious, but you may not realize that the most powerful word in your personal universe is your name.

Your name is the first gift you received after birth, and it was chosen specifically for you. Sometimes we choose our own names. Through the laws of correspondence, a name contains within it the power of choice. Your name, when analyzed using arithmetic methods, can help you understand how to best empower your actions so that they result in what you want. In order to use your name properly as a tool, you need to understand the powers, or symbols, from which it is constructed.

If you aren't conscious of the potential inherent in your name, you'll tend to make too many choices based on the ideas and opinions of others, some of which may be in direct conflict with your own best interest. However, when you become conscious of this hidden power, you can make changes in your behavior and the world around you that are favorable to you, because you now have the "right tools for the right job" and know how to access them.

It can't be emphasized often enough that the power to create the future you want lies within you; through an understanding of the power in your name, you'll acquire some keys that can help you unlock your inner treasures and bring some real magic into the world.

THE MEANING OF YOUR EVERYDAY NAME

Your Everyday Name is the name you're usually called, and sometimes the name by which you are known in business. It represents the general aspects of yourself that you choose to project to others. In doing so, you set an agenda for your interactions with them and with the world at large.

The most important thing about the Everyday Name is that it involves your choice as to which aspects of your personality are put on display, and which you decide to keep to yourself, whether consciously or unconsciously. It also acts as an energetic barrier, primarily to buffer things that may harm the inner self.

In most cases, the Everyday Name is the one that is changed or adopted so that we seem more personable and sociable to others. Sometimes the Everyday Name and the Full Name are the same, but more often than not, they aren't. So let's explore your Everyday Name a bit to see what it is about yourself that you have chosen to reveal to others.

We've calculated the meaning of your Everyday Name by calculating the reduced sum of the letters in your first and last name. Continue reading below for your personalized reading.

Your Everyday Name Number

Matthew, your Everyday Name Number is 8.

Since you have chosen an Everyday Name vibration of Eight, Matthew, you may appear to others as an ambitious person bent on controlling their situation in life. Others instinctively feel that you know how to make things happen, even when you don't. Some may think of you as a workaholic, or even as someone who thinks that they're the only person who can do things right. Others may see you as being overly materialistic and disciplined, even if you're not.

It's important for you to be honest and open with others, and for you to "walk your talk." This will keep others from getting the wrong impression, and will also help you build a strong emotional support system in your life. If you practice gratitude and sharing, and go out of your way to share the spotlight, you'll thrive in both professional and personal life.

THE MEANING OF YOUR FIRST NAME

As you may have guessed, your First Name is your social name – the name which you use in social or public situations. Your situation at work, with friends, at parties and almost all social or casual situations is influenced strongly by what you project through your First Name vibration. In other words, it's a lot like your face – it's the first impression that others get about you in most cases.

Your First Name may sometimes be used as a shield to protect you, or as a mask behind which to hide something going on within you; this shield, or mask, is like an "interface" that makes it easier to interact with others and which keeps simple aspects of social life from becoming "too complicated."

The First Name is one of the primary choices made for you in life by others; whether or not you choose to use it as it was given to you is also a choice – it's all about what, and how, you choose to give of yourself to others, whether they happen to be close to you or merely members of the general public.

We've calculated the meaning of your First Name by calculating the reduced sum of the letters in your first name. Continue reading below for your personalized reading.

Your First Name Number

Matthew, your First Name Number is 9

Because you have chosen to use a first name of the vibration Nine, Matthew, others are likely to think of you as someone who does things in an original and unique way, but may believe that you are far more willing to offer them comfort or aid than you might be. At the same time, they may think of you as being distant or unconcerned with their feelings; this misperception may be the cause of more than one emotionally tense drama in your life.

It's likely that you'll spend considerable time working out why others have so many unrealistic expectations of you, or why they think that you're being something you're not. That's probably because they see you as a compassionate and adventurous person who has a lot to give, but may resent your way of carrying yourself and say that you're "putting on a show", or have no depth of character. If you are direct with others about who you are, you won't have to worry about what they think or say, making it easy for you to be your authentic self, and happy in life.

THE MEANING OF YOUR MIDDLE NAME

Some Numerologists consider the Middle Name as the most important of the names that make up your Expression, or Total Name. This is because the Middle Name represents the inner you; it may reveal hidden talents, or it can involve the goals toward which you are striving or the path that your (usually unconscious) choices are leading you toward.

The Middle Name can help you to understand the desires or motivations which may sometimes puzzle you; it can explain not only why you have them, but can also tell you how to honor them in such a way that you increase your level of self-knowledge dramatically. It represents your inner place of refuge, not just in the sense of the ideas or thoughts that you are comfortable with, but the actions that resonate fully with your inner state of being. It can be a mode of expression for your inner guidance system and let you know if the path you are pursuing is the right one for you on all levels of existence.

Your Middle Name can also outline your weaknesses and make you aware of the areas in which you doubt yourself the most. Understanding these gives you a key with which you can unlock true inner healing and release your inner self, which achieves its purpose through its ability to express itself in the actions and activities you perform every day – from the smallest and seemingly least important to big decisions that can lead to life-changing experiences.

It's also important to realize that the inner self is not just the ego. There is a big difference between the conscious awareness of the mind and the inner being that you are in essence. Almost all spiritual teachings discuss letting go of the ego so that the true self can come through; learning to tune in to the true, inner self and its power is made easier by understanding the vibrational state of your Middle Name.

We've calculated the meaning of your Middle Name by calculating the reduced sum of the letters in your first and last name. Continue reading below for your personalized reading.

Your Middle Name Number

Matthew, your Middle Name Number is 0.

Since you do not have a middle name, this section of the reading does not apply to you. Head over to the next section to continue reading your personalized numerology report.

THE MEANING OF YOUR LAST NAME

Your Last Name represents that part of you that is already present when you are born. It can be the point of origin for major life lessons, but what's most important is to realize is that it is directly related to the societal energy that lays the groundwork for your beliefs and the way you behave in society as an adult. This is similar to the function of the birth year vibration, sometimes called the Maturity Number, which comes into effect later in life.

If the Last Name you use has been changed through marriage or some other circumstance, it carries a special significance. If you adopt a name from outside of the family from which your genetic heritage originates, you also adopt the vibrational quality of that lineage. One way or another, though, your Last Name involves the history of your life that existed before you were born.

Your Last Name involves your relationship with your family. In some cases, where the Last Name is not directly related to the vibrational quality inherited from the male parent, it is related to the position in society that one holds. It also involves qualities which are passed on to the family that you build as an adult. What follows logically, then, is that your Last Name will relate by way of its Numerological value to important relationships that you develop with any relatives, and especially with your partner. That being said, the Last Name vibration is something you inherit by way of societal rules, and is not something that was chosen for you or that you chose yourself.

Your Last Name is thus clearly less important than your First Name, because it is not nearly as representative of your choices, but it should also be noted that many decisions are made due to the influence of one's parents or society's conventions. In some modern societies, in which there are fewer obligations to the family or the social group, it has barely any influence on one's choices at all. Nevertheless, it can still be of potentially great importance in terms of your relationship with the society in which you live, so it should never be excluded from a study of personal Numerology, where name analysis is of tremendous value.

We've calculated the meaning of your Last Name by calculating the reduced sum of the letters in your first and last name. Continue reading below for your personalized reading.

Your Last Name Number

Matthew, your Last Name Number is 8.

Matthew, your Last Name is of the vibration Eight, which is usually regarded as the number of material concerns such as money and power. This is usually an accurate representation of what Eight is about, but only on the general level. When it appears as the vibration of the Last Name, it shows how your attitude about money and success was framed by previous generations. This is a vibration that also drives you to work toward stability in your circumstances, or so the change you experience is in line with what you expect it to be.

In other words, you'll pretty much stick with what you learned when you were young about both money and power – prosperity consciousness can be harmed by growing up believing that "only the rich get richer", and that "in order to make any "real" money, you have to exploit someone." Statements like these, and "all politicians are crooks" and "there's no such thing as an honest lawyer" may be lying in wait as unspoken or unconscious ideas that cause you to think prosperity and success are not "spiritual" achievements.

At the same time, you may have been raised with statements like "life is what you make it" or "as a man thinketh, so is he" which are quite positive and can help you enhance the ability to attract what you want through your actions.

This is a stability and control-seeking vibration, and that makes it easy to re-task negativity for the purpose of achieving positive goals – it's just an emotional attachment. It will be more difficult to do, however, until you acknowledge that there are "success-negative" thoughts that come up, be mindful of your emotional state, and let them go. Once you do, and apply your natural discipline, you can achieve anything.

THE MEANING OF YOUR FULL NAME

You may not be aware of how much information you can acquire about yourself, or any other individual, merely from one's name. Your Full Name is an element in your Numerology Chart that can be explored in depth by identifying its arithmetic values and utilizing these as autonomous elements on their own. The categories which are based on this information are known by names such as the Soul Urge, the Personality or Quiet Self and the Expression. Almost all name-based analytical methods are derived from these.

Since the Expression is the same thing as your Full Name number, and is fully explored later in your report, we won't go into it in detail here. What we will do, however, is explore the basic factors of your name by examining the one you use in most settings - your Everyday Name.

Also, in order to provide you with some useful generalities for self-understanding, we'll explore the whole names that make up your full name — a very old and insightful method of arithmetic or numerological analysis.

THE SOUL URGE NUMBER

THE SOUL URGE NUMBER: WHAT IT IS & HOW IT'S CALCULATED

The Soul is the essence of who we are. The Tibetans say that it is the subtle part of us that coordinates the five elements on all planes; the Greeks believed that it is a mixture of the material components of the world and the Nous, or spirit.

The Soul has an agenda; it is the part of us that seeks experience, expression and growth. Much has been written about how health, prosperity, love and fulfillment result from living the life of the Soul, and an equal amount has been said about what happens to us when we deny the Soul its expression.

Author, shaman, healer and teacher Robert Moss has said:

"When we pursue goals at the expense of our dreams and the urgings of the Soul, its participation in our lives may diminish or disappear. This can also happen when one experiences extreme pain, loss or other traumas; psychologists call this dissociation. 'Soul Loss' affects every aspect of our lives; our relationships, our work and our state of wellness."

Through Numerology, we have a way of glimpsing the urgings of the Soul by reading and honoring the Soul Urge Number, which is defined as the longing of the inner self. We may know what this longing is, but we may not end up expressing it, either by choice or because of our circumstances. That's why it's so important to know more about the Soul Urge; it becomes much easier to express it if you have guidelines that help you follow its lead.

The Soul Urge Number is also called "The Heart's Desire", and some Numerologists use it to understand your relationship style and the challenges you may experience in fulfilling your relationships. Either way, the art of honoring the Soul Urge/Heart's Desire is about achieving a sense of satisfaction and fulfillment in all aspects of life, and this is a goal worthy of all efforts one can make.

How It's Calculated

Your Soul Urge is derived from assigning numerical values to certain letters of your full birth name using the Pythagorean Alphabet. Specifically, to calculate your Soul Urge Number, you use only the vowels.

Vowels are pronounced from free-flowing breath and have soft edges. They represent the true, tender, and often hidden you and they reveal your deepest soul urges.

Interesting Fact: The famous Renaissance Doctor, translator and Astrologer, Marsilio Ficino, devoted much of his life to studying the incredible ways one's life improves when he or she follows the promptings of the soul. The benefits he encountered were undeniable.

The Pythagorean Alphabet:

1 = A, J, S	5 = E, N, W	9 = I, R
2 = B, K, T	6 = F, O, X
3 = C, L, U	7 = G, P, Y
4 = D, M, V	8 = H, Q, Z

Here is an example of how to calculate your Soul Urge Number using the Pythagorean Alphabet:

- Someone was given the full name of James Frank Holmes at birth, will have a Soul Urge Number of 9.
- To calculate, we look at the vowels in the name only.
- So, A, E, A, O, E.
- Next, using the Pythagorean Alphabet table above, we assign a numerical value to each letter.
- So, A = 1
- E = 5
- A = 1
- O = 6
- And, E = 5
- Next, we sum all of these digits together and reduce to a single digit.
- So, 1+5+1+6+5=18, and 1+8=9
- In this example, James has a Soul Urge of 9.

The Master Number Exception:

If your final calculation sums to total 11 or 22, there's no need to continue reducing. The calculation stops there. 11 and 22 are Master Numbers and they have a unique meaning that require stand-alone readings.

For example:

- Johnny Depp has an 11 Soul Urge.
- He has only 2 vowels in his name, O and E.
- O = 6
- E = 5
- So, 6 + 5 = 11

YOUR SOUL URGE NUMBER

Matthew, your Soul Urge Number is 3.

Matthew, your Soul Urge, or Heart's Desire, is of the vibration Three. This vibration is friendly, outgoing and social. Others perceive you as being inspiring, and think it is easy for you to feel happy or open to enjoying life. One of your greatest assets is your imagination, and if you choose to follow the path of your Soul's Urge, you will also be known for the contagious enthusiasm you are likely to generate.

You tend to be more talkative than not, and you enjoy expressing yourself through singing, writing, acting, music, or some form of speaking. You may be known for the ability to turn an everyday conversation into a special experience, and you probably don't mind being in the spotlight from time to time. It's likely that you'll have a tendency towards extravagance though, and although you do well with creating wealth, you enjoy sharing it even more than you do making it.

YOUR SOUL URGE CHALLENGE

In a numerology chart, a challenge of any type is not considered the retribution of a vengeful universe, but rather a tool provided by nature to help you overcome personal weaknesses. Like other challenges in your chart, it is nature's way of giving us "bonus points" for doing something special that may be off the beaten track in terms of the patterns that emerge more readily from our many chart elements. No human being exists in a state of perfect balance, but is usually strong in some areas and weak in others.

H. H. Tenzin Gyatso, the XIV Dalai Lama of Tibet once said, "To be aware of a single shortcoming within oneself is more useful than to be aware of a thousand in somebody else." The challenge to the Soul Urge describes a special method you can use in order to reveal and work with these shortcomings, so that you can ultimately achieve the balance and fulfillment you seek.

Your Soul Urge Challenge Number

Matthew, your Soul Urge Challenge is 0.

How exciting, Matthew; you have a Zero Soul Urge Challenge! This does not mean that you have no Challenge, what it means is that the spectrum of Numerological vibrations will offer you the opportunity to receive the gifts of all of them. In other words, there will be times at which you have to do your thing independently, and other times at which help will be given when you ask for it. Sometimes you'll have to be social and avoid gossip or hearsay, and others when you need to focus on the details of what you're doing.

Occasionally you need to think about how responsible you're being with whatever freedom you experience, and be compassionate without letting others take advantage of you. You need to take time to process things, and take an organized and systematic approach to business matters.

In short, your Soul Urge Challenge is a practical, overall life strategy, which, if you take it up, you'll discover that your insight, prosperity, well-being and security are constantly rising to new heights.

THE PERSONALITY NUMBER

THE PERSONALITY NUMBER: WHAT IT IS & HOW IT'S CALCULATED

The Personality Number, which some refer to as the Persona, is one of the two main factors derived from your full name. While the Soul Urge is calculated by summing the vowels, or the 'soul' of words, the Personality Number is calculated by summing the consonants, which dictate how the soul of these words is manifested in the material world.

In other words, the Persona compliments the inner aspect of the self. The consonants in any word help us make sense of the vowels by providing context; they give form (or in some cases, meaning) to the substance of the name, just as either spices or fire can contextualize, and thus give form, to the word "hot."

Many Indian Numerologists use the Personality Number as an indication of personal style, and along with it, the type of dress that works best for you, following the line of thought that "the first impression is the last impression" - they use it to define how your personal style and behavior affects others.

Some modern Numerologists refer to this as the "Quiet Self", and do not use it as an indicator of outward behavior, but as a clue to what you may dream of doing in the outer world. In reality, this vibration describes both how you imagine yourself and how you present your best self. On both conscious and unconscious (collective and personal) levels, it describes your learned behaviors and how you use them to express your essential self. One thing is certain: your Personality Number is very important in the analysis of how present you are in the process of creating your destiny through your choices.

Your Personality Number can tell you a lot about both those you meet as well as yourself, so it should not be ignored. As you progress in your journey into your personal Numerology chart, you'll find out just how useful the Persona vibration — and the tips you get from learning to understand it — can be.

How It's Calculated

Much like your Soul Urge and Expression Numbers, your Personality Number is derived from assigning numerical values to certain letters in your full birth name using the Pythagorean Alphabet. Except in this case, we use only the consonants.

Consonants are pronounced with sharp edges and have a definitive beginning or end. They represent your public personality and the traits you outwardly share with the world.

Here is an example of how to calculate your Personality Number using the Pythagorean Alphabet.

The Pythagorean Alphabet:

1 = A, J, S	5 = E, N, W	9 = I, R
2 = B, K, T	6 = F, O, X
3 = C, L, U	7 = G, P, Y
4 = D, M, V	8 = H, Q, Z

Here is an example of how to calculate your Personality Number using the Pythagorean Alphabet:

- Someone given the full name of Victoria Mae Smith at birth will have a Personality Number of 1.
- To calculate, we look at the consonants in the name only.
- So, V, C, T, R, M, S, M, T, H.
- Next, using the Pythagorean Alphabet table above, we assign a numerical value to each letter.

- So, V = 4
- C = 3
- T = 2
- R = 9
- M = 4
- S = 1
- M = 4
- T = 2
- And, H = 8

- Next, we sum all of these digits together and reduce to a single digit.
- So, 4+3+2+9+4+1+4+2+8=37
- 3+7=10
- And, 1+0=1
- In this example, Victoria has a Personality Number of 1.

The Master Number Exception:

If your final calculation sums to total 11 or 22, there's no need to continue reducing. The calculation stops there. 11 and 22 are Master Numbers and they have a unique meaning that require stand-alone readings.

For example:

- Albert Einstein has an 11 Personality.
- Let's look at the consonants only, L, B, R, T, N, S, T, N.

- L=3
- B=2
- R=9
- T=2
- N=5
- S=1
- T=2
- N=5
- So, 3+2+9+2+5+1+2+5=47
- And, 4+7=11

YOUR PERSONALITY NUMBER

Matthew, your Personality Number is 5.

Matthew your Personality Number, or Persona, holds the value of the Numerological vibration "Five." Five is the most freedom-oriented of all the Persona vibrations. You tend to be quite changeable in the way you present yourself to others; you're likely to have more imitators because your style and speech are usually up-to-date, if not ahead of the curve. You probably are up on the latest trends and love being different in the way you present yourself, but you have to be somewhat restrained so as not to irritate others who are just not as forward thinking as you are. It's likely that you have to learn to be more serious in conversation; your sense of humor can be a breath of fresh air, but without some degree of sensitivity, it may not be appreciated.

YOUR PERSONALITY NUMBER CHALLENGE

As mentioned earlier, some writings on the subject of Numerology treat the Personality Number (Persona) as associated only with visible aspects of the self, while others treat it as a hidden yet driving aspect of the personality, referring to it as the Quiet Self. But both of these views of the Persona and what its Challenge means are superficial at best.

Anyone's thoughts and attitude about the self affect health, prosperity, relationships, and all other matters connected with our well-being. Your Persona is derived from experience, which is the feedback the universe gives us about our choices, thoughts, words and deeds. When you are unhappy with your circumstances, it is the Persona that interprets how the Soul perceives them and integrates this perception into the conscious mind - it may generate a constructive action plan in line with its Numerological value, or it may generate angry, self-critical, defensive or defeatist thoughts and attitudes.

These thoughts and emotions may sabotage your plans or slow their momentum; if no plans have been made, they may suppress the psychic energy generated by your inner self, which can result in disturbances to your well-being, both in body and mind.

It should be mentioned again that in Numerology, a Challenge is not a threat. The Challenges in Numerology, especially those derived from your name, are about choices available to you that can improve your overall circumstances.

Your Personality Challenge Number

Matthew, your Personality Challenge Number is 3.

Matthew, your Personality Challenge is of the vibration Three, which requires that you don't allow everyday distractions take your time, energy and effort "off on a tangent" – it's crucial that you see things through. Even in common conversations with others, it's important that you stick with your point until the end, and not be distracted by rumors, side-issues and the like. There may even be times when you may have to choose between your major goals in life and sudden attractive opportunities; you must always stick to your chosen path in order to attain the freedom and charisma that this challenge offers.

THE EXPRESSION NUMBER

THE EXPRESSION NUMBER: WHAT IT IS & HOW IT'S CALCULATED

The Expression, or Total Name Number, describes the magic that you bring into the world; it is the number that provides an overview of what you send out into your surroundings. People don't usually realize that they create chains of cause and effect through their actions which open the door to new experiences. Essentially, everyone is constantly shaping the future in their own way.

Learning about your Expression and its challenge gives you the opportunity to make adjustments in your actions through which you can engineer a future that is more in line with your gifts and talents, and which you can therefore share with others.

One reason that the Expression is such an important part of your chart is that it represents your power of choice. Even though your name was given to you, this was a choice on someone's part, one which transferred to you this wonderful human power. This ability to choose may not always be a blessing, however, because every vibration has its upside and downside. No one makes perfectly correct decisions all the time, and it takes a great deal of understanding and self-knowledge to tune your decisions and actions to move in the direction that best suits you and reflects the most favorable qualities of your Expression Number.

Unlike the Life Path Number, the Expression is not permanent. It can be changed, thereby altering the quality of your choices. Even though it is possible to change your name to enhance or suppress certain aspects of your character (and therefore your lifestyle), this has to be done very carefully - many facets of one's Numerology chart must be thoroughly examined in order to make sure that you are not fixing one thing but breaking another.

A famous teacher once said: "What you send out into the world is what you get back." This is a perfect description of the Expression, and also why some refer to it as the Destiny Number.

How It's Calculated

Your Expression Number is calculated much like your Soul Urge, by assigning numerical values to the letters in your name using the Pythagorean Alphabet. Except in this case, we use ALL the letters in your name because each letter, and its corresponding number and vibration, combine to form the complete picture of who you are and how you express yourself.

Here is an example of how to calculate your Expression Number using the Pythagorean Alphabet.

The Pythagorean Alphabet:

1 = A, J, S	5 = E, N, W	9 = I, R
2 = B, K, T	6 = F, O, X
3 = C, L, U	7 = G, P, Y
4 = D, M, V	8 = H, Q, Z

Here is an example of how to calculate your Expression Number using the Pythagorean Alphabet:

- Someone given the full name of Kathy Anne Franklin at birth, will have an Expression Number of 4.
- We'll start by assigning a numerical value to every letter using the Pythagorean Alphabet table above.

- So, K = 2
- A = 1
- T = 2
- H = 8
- Y = 7
- A = 1
- N = 5
- N = 5
- E = 5
- F = 6
- R = 9
- A = 1
- N = 5
- K = 2
- L = 3
- I = 9
- And, N = 5

- Next, we sum all of these digits together and reduce to a single digit.
- So, 2+1+2+8+7+1+5+5+5+6+9+1+5+2+3+9+5=76
- 7+6=13
- And, 1+3=4
- In this example, Kathy has an Expression Number of 4.

The Master Number Exception:

If your final calculation sums to total 11 or 22, there's no need to continue reducing. The calculation stops there. 11 and 22 are Master Numbers and they have a unique meaning that require stand-alone readings.

For example:

- Kim Kardashian has an 11 Expression.

- K=2
- I=9
- M=4
- K=2
- A=1
- R=9
- D=4
- S=1
- H=8
- I=9
- A=1
- N=5
- So, 2+9+4+2+1+9+4+1+1+8+9+1+5=56
- And, 5+6=11

YOUR EXPRESSION NUMBER

Matthew, your Expression Number is 8.

Matthew, your Expression number is Eight. Eight possesses a natural genius for organization, which usually is visible through your efforts to take control of your circumstances. You're likely to be known for your ambition, forthrightness, courage, discipline and persistence. When you are committed to an action, you have the ability to get things done, no matter what it takes.

Although Eight is often called the "money number", too much emphasis on materialistic pursuits, especially those involving speculation, can cause problems for you and result in obstinacy, stuck-ness or even nervous or psychological tensions. Money may not come easily to you, unless you learn to set aside such negative characteristics as a lack of consideration for others or impatience with them. You also may just work too hard; slow down and put some energy into your relationships - and into your personal and physical well-being.

The negative path of Eight leads to intolerance, bluntness, aggressiveness and control issues. Eight is not known to "pull punches" – especially when under stress. On this path, you may even take on too much responsibility due to a lack of trust in others' ability to perform at their best. If you are disappointed by others enough times, you may become manipulative and treacherous, creating more problems than you can solve. Love, loyalty and sharing are your best medicines.

Although your fear of failure may be strong, it will disappear if you devote your time and energy to something bigger than yourself and allow for the loving support of others – if you welcome the assistance of others, you'll find your confidence and your fortunes improve.

From time to time you will have to make assessments, or even judge others. Some may think of you as a self-righteous person, but they will eventually learn that your judgments are unbiased and sound, especially if you learn to soften your hard edges. The hardest part of having this talent is to know when to reserve judgment so as not to cause unnecessary or even unjustified harm to someone. If you learn to do so, you'll relax the tension of this powerful vibration and open the flow of prosperity and abundance in your life.

YOUR EXPRESSION CHALLENGE

Like other major elements of your Numerology chart, the Expression provides its own challenge. It's actually the numerological or arithmetic sum of the Soul Urge and Personality Number challenges. This does not mean, however, that it can be described by combining the two challenges. The Expression Challenge is synergetic - which means that it is a whole vibration that is greater than the sum of its parts.

The Expression Challenge is thus distinct from its two component challenges, and has a unique meaning. You can work with this challenge without affecting the Soul Urge or the Personal challenges, or you can work with all of them at once. It is often recommended to work with the Expression first, because it has a larger overall effect on one's life - people are usually able to learn more about the real you by using the Expression than by using its separate components.

Once again, a challenge in Numerology is not some kind of counter-force that works against your happiness, success or well-being. It is rather a way of gaining "extra credit" or "bonus points" in the game of life, and in so doing you can accelerate the learning which you are here to accomplish.

Your Expression Challenge Number

Matthew, your Expression Challenge Number is 3.

Three. Having this vibration as a challenge to your Expression may not seem to be difficult, but when you ignore it or don't realize that you have a tendency to avoid people when you're stressed, this issue could be very distracting, and could really be annoying for you, because you're not likely to know why. Mastering this challenge requires that you be more open about yourself and become more social, but it's best if the events and gatherings you attend are not for some well-defined purpose or have an agenda other than having a good time. Travel helps as well, as long as it is not for business purposes or part of an established routine. When you master this challenge you'll know, because others will respond to you more favorably, and you'll find more creative ways to increase your prosperity.

THE LIFE PATH NUMBER

THE LIFE PATH NUMBER: WHAT IT IS & HOW IT'S CALCULATED

There are many factors and calculations that make up a complete Numerology report or forecast, but of all the elements in your chart, one stands alone when it comes to describing your cumulative circumstances throughout life.

This element is your Life Path, sometimes also called the Birth Path or the Destiny Number. It represents the situations and opportunities that you attract as the result of your actions, and thus the landscape of the world through which you navigate. It is a central number, or core element, in the hierarchy of vibrations that make up your Numerology chart, and is used in almost every school of Numerology known to exist.

Your Life Path Number is found by adding together the month and day of birth, adding them to the year, and then finding the final arithmetic sum. This number is so important because one's date of birth cannot be changed; in the Eastern world it is often said to represent "non-negotiable Karma."

The physical and psychic environment leading up to your birth (and for some time after) is also part of the unchangeable aspect of your present experiences. The seed determines the type of tree: although the tree can be trimmed or altered in other ways, its basic type cannot be changed.

Most forecasting cycles and time periods are established by examining the Life Path components as well. The timing of the unique event of your birth, when examined through the lens of Numerology, gives us the key to unlocking the essential patterns that present themselves to you throughout your life experience.

How It's Calculated

Your Life Path Number is calculated by reducing the sum of your entire date of birth to a single digit.

You start by reducing your month of birth, your day of birth, and your year of birth to a single digit. You then add those 3 numbers together and reduce the sum to a single digit to get your final Life Path Number.

The Pythagorean Alphabet:

1 = A, J, S	5 = E, N, W	9 = I, R
2 = B, K, T	6 = F, O, X
3 = C, L, U	7 = G, P, Y
4 = D, M, V	8 = H, Q, Z

Here's an example:

- Someone born December 15, 1987 will have a Life Path of 7.
- We start by reducing the month of birth to a single digit. December is the 12th month of the year.
- So, 1+2= 3
- We then reduce the day of birth, the 15th, to a single digit.
- So, 1+5=6
- Next, we reduce the year of birth, 1987, to a single digit.
- So, 1+9+8+7=25, and 2+5=7
- Last, we add these 3 numbers together and reduce to a single digit to find the Life Path Number.
- So, 3+6+7=16, and 1+6=7
- In this example, the Life Path Number is 7.

The Master Number Exception:

If your final calculation sums to total 11 or 22, there's no need to continue reducing. The calculation stops there. 11 and 22 are Master Numbers and they have a unique meaning that require stand-alone readings.

For example:

- Someone born on May 10, 1985 will have a Life Path Number of 11.
- May is the 5th month of the year and does not need to be reduced further.
- Then we reduce the day of birth, the 10th, to a single digit.
- So, 1+0=1
- Next, we reduce the year of birth, 1985, to a single digit.
- So, 1+9+8+5=23, and 2+3=5
- Last, we add these 3 numbers together to find the Life Path Number.
- So, 5+1+5=11, we do not reduce further.
- In this example, the Life Path Number is an 11.

YOUR LIFE PATH NUMBER

Matthew, your Life Path Number is 8.

Matthew your Life Path is of the vibration Eight. Your path in life is one of power and authority. You possess the attributes of organization, toughness, authority, courage and inner strength. Your goal is achievement, and you are driven by the desire to control your circumstances. In modern culture, achieving this goal usually includes a strong desire for the acquisition of money, and some degree of materialism.

You are capable of handling big projects, and like to do things in a big way. Loving big rooms and houses, and "living large", there may be a tendency to extravagance that matches your ambition. Having a mind that works to organize the outer world, you have a natural talent for editing, administration and management of various types.

There is in you, as in all people born in the Life Path Eight, a strong aversion to being in a subordinate position. Because you also tend to be fairly bold and courageous, you may have trouble from time to time from little things like the unconscious refusal to follow directions or read instructions.

In professional life, you have little care for the social climbing aspects for getting ahead. In fact, many people of your vibrational type do not have a great deal of luck with connections through family and friends, and must work hard for success. Fortunately, you do not see this as a problem, once you have set yourself on course with what you want to do.

It's likely that you tend to live at extremes, and whether you attract extremes of success or failure centers on your ability to make judgments based on facts, and not your interpretations of them. This is also a factor that will affect your psychological and physical health as well.

Eight can be one of the more difficult paths to tread, because of the ambition and desire for recognition. You will know that you are receiving the highest possible gifts of this vibration because you will lose your impatience with people. Being arrogant and obstinate will upset others, and garner obstructive feedback from the Universe, even if you are doing it unconsciously. In other words, heavy-handed and controlling behavior effectively blocks your ability to attract the prosperity you desire.

The most difficult aspect of this vibration, Matthew, is the tendency to resort to any means at your disposal to satisfy your desires, and these means may not be fair. Discipline and hard work are your keys to success, not ruthlessness.

It may take a while for you to get used to people, and sometimes you can be secretly shy.

© 2022 Numerologist.com. All rights reserved.

Admiration and emotional support from your partner are vital for the achievement of the kind of goals you have in mind. You may put so much time into your projects and activities that you leave little room for social life.

Although the social side of love may be a bit more difficult for you than most, your unquestioning loyalty causes you to be a solid and dependable partner in relationships. Unless you are willing to express a sharing attitude and be less demanding, relationships could be very troublesome for you.

You may attract circumstances that might cause others to give up, but you tend to accept them as “par for the course.” You’ll probably make sure that people know your accomplishments are yours, and leave your mark on whatever you do.

Once you cultivate a deeply ethical sense of working in cooperation with others, and understand that everyone does not have your drive and ambition, success will come to you without your having to seek it.

Your Life Path holds great power, and your success is entirely dependent on how that power is used. In other words, if you choose to use your power at the expense of others, you will face constant challenges and opposition. If you choose to use that same power for the benefit of others, there is no limit as to what you can achieve in your life.

THE LIFE PATH CHALLENGES

YOUR LIFE PATH CHALLENGES

The Life Path number is made up of the vibrations of the month, day and year of birth. These three vibrations define the major stages along the Life Path, and help us understand how we change over time. One of the ways it helps us to navigate the tides of change we all face is to offer us Life Challenges. These Challenges will increase and decrease in prominence at different times in life, but that's not a bad thing.

Challenges in Numerology are not contentious; the old tradition described them as though they were harsh lessons we have to learn. In modern times, we have discovered that this is not so. The various types of Challenges that we have are more like "extra credit" questions on a test, or a make-up exam which can stand in for one you missed. If you are able to attain the best possible expression of your vibration, it will empower other aspects of your chart, so that together they can attract or express the best qualities of your vibration.

Sometimes the Challenges might offer one or more of those "now why did I do that?" moments. When they do, it's a signal that you've allowed yourself to go off course a bit - they are offering you the opportunity to take the "high road" inherent in their vibrations. If we ignore them altogether, then the "low road" of the Challenges will manifest as persistent issues related to their vibration and will bring out the less positive qualities of the key elements in your chart.

There are three Life Challenges in your Numerology chart: the first and second Minor Challenges and the Major Challenge. The first Minor Challenge is felt more strongly during your early years, and the second Minor Challenge will manifest more in later life. The Major Challenge is experienced throughout your lifetime.

So when you are considering what you can do to improve your situation, need a quick and effective strategy for handling an issue that has presented itself, or feel as if you are off-track when it comes to attracting positive experiences, study this section of your chart and think about how to meet your Challenges - the extra credit you accumulate will increase your total score!

YOUR FIRST MINOR CHALLENGE

The first Minor Challenge, as stated earlier, is active during your early years. These early years generally run through the mid 30's and sometimes into the 40's. The Challenges are established by locating the numbers along your Life Path which connect its various components — they thus interact with the individual vibrations of the Life Path Cycles, and provide us the opportunity of resonating with a vibration that affects more than one of them simultaneously.

If we can successfully make use of this element, mastering the quality of the first Minor Challenge allows us to link the Formative and Productive Cycles, which can help us use the experiences of our early lives to make the most out of the circumstances which arise during our Cycle of Productivity.

Your First Minor Challenge Number

Matthew, your First Minor Challenge Number is 3.

Matthew, your First Minor Challenge is of the vibration 3. Three is considered to be a pleasant, creative and social vibration, but it holds a big Challenge for many people. In order to get the "extra credit" from vibration 3, you will need to be more expressive and spend more time socializing. You never know what, or how much, you have to share unless you do it. Especially during the younger years, local social life may not have the kind of appeal to you personally, so you have to do it on your own. It is not hard to make the kind of connections you need to fulfill the requirements of this challenge; in fact, you will attract the opportunity to do so. All you need to do is realize that life becomes far more difficult for you when you isolate yourself from others, and withdraw into private life.

YOUR SECOND MINOR CHALLENGE

The Second Minor Challenge picks up during midlife and continues until your later years. This Challenge links the Formative Cycle to the Harvest Cycle, effectively blending youthful enthusiasm with the wisdom of one's later years. It forms a balance between innocence and maturity, helping us to avoid the kinds of mistakes we all make before we gain enough experience to recognize our vulnerabilities and learn how to balance them.

When we work with this Challenge, we are able to attain a level of experiential knowledge without losing our joie de vivre; we become able to make sober decisions without losing our sense of humor. But like every vibration in your chart, this too matches the quality of your consciousness. If you are open to the possibility of gaining the "extra credit" of this Challenge, the positive side of its vibration will continue throughout your life; conversely, if the opportunity to use it is ignored, the latter half of life will be more difficult to navigate.

Your Second Minor Challenge Number

Matthew, your Second Minor Challenge Number is 1.

Matthew, your Second Minor Challenge carries the vibration 1. One can be very individualistic and active, and sometimes forceful. During the latter half of life, you'll attract opportunities be very busy, maybe taking on a leadership role, but it's up to you whether or not you accept it. If you want the "extra credit" this challenge offers, don't try to take advantage of others or force them to do as you tell them. On the other hand, it's important that you don't give up on your plans and goals. Whatever you encounter in any phase of life you need to approach with enthusiasm if you want to recover your drive and persistence. You probably will not want to simply do as others tell you, but you don't have to be confrontational when negotiation is at all possible. Because of the nature of the Challenge, you need to make sure you are putting your self-interest at the top of your list of priorities; this vibration clearly favors the bold with good fortune.

© 2022 Numerologist.com. All rights reserved.

YOUR MAJOR CHALLENGE

Your Major Challenge works in a different way than the two Minor Challenges. While the latter link elements of the Life Path to attract more positive circumstances, the Major Challenge bridges the two Minor Challenges in such a way as to provide an opportunity to work with a Challenge that is active throughout the lifetime. Some people find that working with the Major Challenge alone improves their overall quality of life, and that it helps to identify and work with deep, underlying issues, through which they can make breakthroughs regarding the obstacles they may face.

Working with this Challenge can be extremely rewarding, because where the Minor Challenges allow us to do the equivalent of getting extra credit in a course, the Major Challenge is more like a single test that lets us skip the course completely. Like the Minor Challenges, whatever the Major Challenge attracts to help you reach your potential will depend on your consciousness. If you view your various shortcomings as something to overcome and thereby live a more fulfilling life, you will. On the other hand, if you see them only as a cruel, fatalistic joke, then they will only intensify until you learn to change your perspective.

Your Major Challenge Number

Matthew, your Major Challenge Number is 2.

Your Major Challenge carries the vibration 2, Matthew, and this vibration will constantly attract situations that reinforce your need to become independent. It's easy to follow another's lead, or let your individuality merge with that of a social or professional group, but that's just the opposite of what you need to do to achieve the gift of this Challenge. It's also important that you cooperate and follow directions, so a balance needs to be struck between going it alone and being a doormat for others. The key principles here are exchange and balance; you need to be constantly aware of your best interests, and, at the same time, willing to work together with others for mutual benefit. As you try to do so, you'll notice that your intuition and empathy will increase, and you can use these gifts to your advantage. Eventually, you'll know exactly whether someone is leading you on or proposing a situation where everybody wins.

THE LIFE PATH CYCLES

YOUR LIFE PATH CYCLES

Your Life Path is dynamic; it is a specific combination of universal energies that are present at the time of your birth, and has a great deal of impact on your life. It is the sum of three distinct vibrations that you attract through the incident of birth: the vibrations of the month, the day and the year in which you enter this plane.

Although most books on Numerology articulate the Life Path as a singular vibration that operates throughout life, the vibrations of the month, day and year also act independently. They are called Sub-Paths, Sub-Cycles or Life Path Cycles. They operate sequentially, and are roughly representative of the periods of youth, adulthood and maturity. They are calculated in a way that brings them close to two of the predictive cycles used by astrologers: the cycle of the progressed Moon, and the orbital cycle of Saturn, commonly referred to as the Saturn Return.

The first of these Sub-Cycles is called the Formative Cycle, and is of the same vibration as the month of birth. It begins at birth, and ends at the beginning of your second cycle.

The second cycle is the Cycle of Productivity, which covers the years during which you are at your most productive in terms of building for the future and establishing yourself in society. The Productive Cycle holds the same vibration as the date of birth, and begins on January 1st of the year in which you celebrate your 28th birthday. The third, or Harvest Cycle, is what you reap from the efforts of the previous two cycles. It begins on January 1st of the year in which you celebrate your 55th birthday. It is represented by the vibration of the year of birth, which some numerologists refer to as the Maturity Number.

These sub-paths can provide important opportunities to increase success and happiness if you tune in to their positive aspects; however, if you instead resonate with their negative aspects, they can be very troublesome. They represent the circumstances and individuals you attract to yourself, and, as you can imagine, if you are focused on the negative aspects of any vibration, this is what you will attract to yourself in ways you can't see and may not consciously understand.

These Life Cycles are very important elements along the Path of Life. They are of such long duration that they are easy to forget about, but they are always there, contributing to the matrix of forces in which you live, move and experience your being. Almost all forecasting techniques of Numerology begin with them. They are like the sets for the three main acts of a play or film, while the various vibrations of shorter cycles, such as the Personal Years or the Transit Cycles, are like the scenes within each of the three acts. Included in all of this is the character development and plot twists that combine them into a story - but all of this happens within the context of the settings, costumes and the plotline itself.

Now it's time to discuss your three Life Path Cycles in order. They are discussed in reference to your overall Life Path, to give you a sense of how these vibrations fit into the context of your life as a whole.

YOUR FORMATIVE CYCLE

Your Formative Cycle outlines your growth and the groundwork laid for the individuation process. It also defines the circumstances which you attract at the moment of birth, through your actions during your early years, and how these interact to prepare you for adulthood.

On the one hand, the Formative Cycle provides context for positive and constructive situations which, even if difficult, build character. On the other, it addresses troublesome experiences which plant the seeds of self-defeating thoughts that can grow into unconscious obstacles which act as saboteurs during your Cycle of Productivity.

In short, your response to the vibrational combination of the Formative Cycle and the Life Path becomes the foundation for either success and happiness in your life, or the lack of it.

Your Formative Cycle Number

Matthew, your Formative Cycle Number is 8.

Matthew, your Formative Cycle carries the vibration 8, which is known for its organizing ability and power of command. You'll attract an overwhelming desire to gain control over yourself and your circumstances, which explains why, since early on in life, you've had a strong desire for accomplishment and achievement. It's not likely that you were the kind of young person to sit back and wait for what you wanted to come to you; this is a sign of a "go getter." Of course some adults may have caused you some difficulties, especially when you were told to "wait until you grow up." Chances are good that rebelling against this type of statement was a major factor in putting you on the path of achievement.

Your determination, discipline and methodical way of thinking required by your early circumstances will remain as driving forces for you, throughout life. These abilities and can help you attract the opportunities you want, but totally materialistic aims and ambitions could cause problems. You need the love and support of others, and the companionship of helpful friends, but when you are only focused on financial advancement, you'll push them away. Chances are good that by the time you reach your Cycle of Productivity, you will have learned this important lesson and will be well on your way to success.

YOUR PRODUCTIVE CYCLE

Some Numerologists consider the Cycle of Productivity to be the most important of the three Life Path Cycles, because it is during this period of life that you build the infrastructure that will determine the quality of your Harvest cycle, and therefore the rest of your life.

The Productive Cycle represents your career and interaction with the world. It represents your greatest achievements, but is, more importantly, about the contribution that you make to the lives of others for good or ill. The vibration of this cycle describes how you approach life as an adult, in whatever culture and society you happen to live. This sub-cycle is the period of time when your Birthday Vibration is being expressed most strongly, and is therefore the most personal of the Life Path Cycles. It shows how you attract opportunities to express your personal gifts and talents, and says something about the kind of feedback you will receive from the world at large. You may want to take a look at your Birthday Vibration if you want to learn more about how you can engage the positive aspects of this cycle's vibration - since it is the most personal sub-cycle, it is actually the easiest to work with.

Your Productive Cycle Number

Matthew, your Productive Cycle Number is 5.

Because your Cycle of Productivity is of the vibration Five, Matthew. This vibration marks a time of constant change; you may even experience a major change every year during this cycle. Very often a major change occurs about 18 months after the beginning of the cycle that could affect your entire future. You can certainly expect to attract a wide variety of experiences, and maybe even a lot of travel during this time. The circumstances you attract (especially those regarding making changes in your career or lifestyle) may involve the need to take risks, so be very careful to make choices on the basis of your long-term interest rather than an immediate opportunity to enjoy yourself.

The major theme of this cycle is change, and some of the changes you experience may cause you to reorient your perspective on life in general. You may spend a good deal of time adapting to the new opportunities and possibilities that constantly appear as well; being flexible and keeping an open mind while continuing to press forward is the key to your success now.

The other theme of this cycle is freedom and variety. You'll probably feel an unexpected sense of newfound freedom, and you can follow it if you manage to keep up with your responsibilities. If you cannot, you may attract major problems in your relationships or career. In fact, this is a cycle that can be hard on relationships unless you have a partner with basically the same interests and aims. It's best, during this cycle, to divert this freedom loving energy into responsible recreational activities that won't harm your reputation.

You can expect your life to become quite busy and active; if you are not fond of the outdoors or travel, your social life could become your top priority. Otherwise, you may make an effort to develop a business of your own, or branch into something new, or "reinvent" your personal style. However you choose to use the energy you're attracting, you can be sure that any efforts you to put toward "changing things up" will have very immediate responses from others, so be careful to consider what kind of response you want before you make any major decisions. One thing is sure; you won't be bored – or boring!

YOUR HARVEST CYCLE

This cycle, which includes the rewards reaped from your efforts and actions during the previous two cycles, lasts from its beginning until the end of your lifetime. In other words, during this part of your life, you don't necessarily attract anything new; you rather attract all of the unused "karma" from your actions earlier in life. This is therefore a period during which you can experience life in two ways. You can either work with your various challenges to make sure you get the best from the vibrations which have remained underused; or you can sit back and randomly accept whatever comes from the "upside" or "downside" of the vibration it carries.

As you might guess, this portion of your Life Path provides opportunities, but by now you should have a good idea of how you can bring what you want into manifestation; if not, you should be gaining the experience that enables you to recognize which actions you take attract what you don't want. Many people treat the latter part of life as a period in which they live out of habit and are driven by the momentum of the past. This is not a good practice - in fact, it may be the worst possible approach to enjoying a happy life in your later years.

Some people choose to give something back to the world by sharing the wisdom they have accumulated in some way with others, usually as a parent, mentor, teacher, or guide. Others choose to continue what they have been doing, often accepting whichever opportunities or offers they receive as recognition for their earlier contributions. Numerology shows, however, that one does not have to choose between the different patterns which lay out a roadmap for the future; to the contrary, you can choose the future that you want, as long as you first know what you want and then make an effort to attract it.

Because the possibilities of the Harvest Cycle are open-ended, the only thing that you need to decide is whether you want to shoulder the negative aspects of the vibration it bears, or whether you want to align your experience with the best possible aspects of the vibration. Even after you enter this cycle, you can change its course. All you have to do is recognize whether or not you are experiencing the results of focusing on what you don't want, as opposed to reaping the benefits of what you do. With enough awareness, you can always change your mind.

The explanation of your Harvest Cycle that follows will therefore concentrate on both the positive and negative aspects of the vibration, so that you can see not only where to concentrate your energies in the present, but can also diagnose which of the possible downsides you need to work on so that you can build up the "momentum of mindfulness" which will create the kind of Harvest Cycle you truly desire.

Your Harvest Cycle Number

Matthew, your Harvest Cycle Number is 4.

Since you have a Harvest Cycle of vibration Four, Matthew, you are not likely to retire early, because some work will be engaged in, whether by choice or not. It could be all about caring for home, family, property or yourself, but whatever you are doing will require effort and attention to detail. Maybe you will fulfill a dream of creating a business for yourself in a location you love, or spend your time caring for others. Maybe you are in a situation in which age is an asset, rather than a liability. It's also possible that after the cycle begins, you find a different calling from what you've been doing and pursue it with your whole heart.

If you have plans to "drop out" or "get away from it all", you may be in for some surprises during your Harvest Cycle. This is a time during which you will be in demand, and your happiness will, in some way, be dependent on the efforts you make fulfilling these demands on your time and effort. You'll probably notice the urge to "get serious" within the first two years of the cycle: it will stick with you long after then. While enjoying the fruits of previous labors, you will thrive by continuing your efforts to steadily move forward from one goal to the next.

You may be quite surprised at your ability to focus on a given task, create organized plans, and concentrate on your best interests. Anything that you can do to bring a steady or stable rhythm into your daily routines will enhance your prosperity and your love-life, without interfering with your opportunities for adventure. When the cycle begins, responsibilities to your family or yourself may slow things down, but you'll find that you're shifting your attention to the future, and the needs that you and your loved ones will have in the coming years. Don't let anyone tell you that it's too late to create the future you want; every moment is a new opportunity. This vibration is said to be hard on the love-life, but chances are good that you've entered a serious relationship by the time it begins. If you have not, or if there has been trouble in relationships before the cycle starts, an important one will most likely come to you through a connection you make through work or duties that you volunteer for.

THE PINNACLES

THE PINNACLES: WHAT THEY ARE & HOW THEY'RE CALCULATED

The Pinnacles are periods of time during which you will attract various opportunities based on the numeric vibrations that they carry, but they happen to be very potent manifestations of those particular vibrations. Since getting the best out of your Pinnacles is not always easy, some writers refer to them as Attainments.

Each Pinnacle is like a distant point on the landscape that you will eventually reach, and, according to the choices you make, what you will receive when you get there. In other words, your Pinnacles usually describe the "reward" you earn for working with the vibration that you attract during their cycle. Psychologists of the Jungian School have a term that is well suited to this idea: they use "integration" to describe how concepts, feelings and strategies that aid in the relationship with the self, others and the world become a part of us as we grow and experience life. This is almost exactly what the scholars who developed the modern system of Numerology described when they discovered the Pinnacles.

Since they are part of your Life Path, these four vibrations cannot be changed, but your choices and actions determine whether or not you experience their more favorable aspects. If you do not choose to consciously direct your own destiny through your own efforts, it will be nearly impossible to attain the potential of each Pinnacle, which will lead to the more negative aspects of its vibration manifesting through your circumstances and environment.

As mentioned above, there are four Pinnacles which occur in your lifetime, each having one of the numerical vibrations that you attract during their years of operation. These can be seen as "Attainments", the idea being that you must strive to reach the highest quality of these vibrations that you can. We realize today that these vibrations can generate either their lowest or their highest qualities whenever they manifest; all that we have to do is to "tune in" to the quality that we want to attract with our choices and behaviors.

Most good numerologists place the most emphasis on Pinnacles 2 and 3, because during the 18 years they are in power, you can use their particular qualities to establish yourself in the world and lay the groundwork for your future.

© 2022 Numerologist.com. All rights reserved.

How they are calculated:

The four Pinnacles end on specific birthdays which are specific to your Life Path vibration. Your First Pinnacle, or Pinnacle of Attainment, lasts from birth until your 27th birthday. The Second Pinnacle, or the Pinnacle of Obligation, lasts until your 36th birthday. Your Third Pinnacle, known as the Pinnacle of Foundation, lasts through your 45th birthday when your Fourth Pinnacle, or Pinnacle of Retrospection, begins. This final Pinnacle lasts for the remainder of your lifetime.

It should be mentioned here that the Pinnacles are considered by some authors to be the second-most important aspects of the Numerology chart after your Life Path.

YOUR FIRST PINNACLE: THE PINNACLE OF ATTAINMENT

The first Pinnacle is of great importance in the study of your character, because it describes the developmental experiences of your life, your attitudes about achievement, and the development of your sense of self. It is about your beginnings and which primary formative forces influence your early life the most. This can involve childhood or early adult trauma, but can also be about victory and early accomplishments. In many ways, this is the vibration that sets your life in motion. By the time it is over, you're likely to have "found yourself" and set the direction for much of the rest of your life.

Your Pinnacle Of Attainment Number

Matthew, your First Pinnacle Number is 4.

Any Pinnacle of the vibration “Four” will be a period of work, loyalty, attention to detail, and to some degree, limitations. In other words, some kind of restriction or adherence to duty be a major feature of the time. In your case, Matthew, because you have this vibration during your first Pinnacle, you are likely to start out in life under strict circumstances or very ethical influences.

People with “Four” as a dominant vibration in early life generally start working earlier than their peers. Sometimes this constitutes being a family helper or babysitter at an early age, or starting a business as a teenager. Whatever the circumstances are, this is actually a good result, because it helps build a firm foundation and strong work ethic for the future. Many with this vibration work their way through school and maybe college, and the jobs or schedules are not usually easy, but taken in stride.

There could be other ways in which the limitation theme of this vibration could manifest as well, such as living in isolated circumstances, or having special health needs. Sometimes the early environment is such that financial security or something that requires a serious and dedicated attitude is more important than friendships. Although this is an Attainment that is hard on relationships, partnerships developed during this vibration are usually very solid. The achievements that are gained usually are lasting and beneficial, for they help you develop a reputation for reliability, and excellent management skills that will follow you throughout life.

YOUR SECOND PINNACLE: THE PINNACLE OF OBLIGATION

During the nine year period of your Pinnacle of Obligation, you will attract — according to the nature of its vibration — circumstances that engage you in the fulfillment of your obligations to society, no matter what culture you may be a part of. You are likely to begin participating more fully in community life, and spending time reinforcing the social bonds between yourself and others; or, you may focus entirely on fulfilling your basic need for contribution to, and participation in, the world at large.

Your Pinnacle Of Obligation Number

Matthew, your Second Pinnacle Number is 9.

Having the vibration Nine as your Pinnacle of Obligation could presage a major success, and maybe several of them, Matthew. It may start with success in overcoming the results of misfortunes that you encountered during the First Pinnacle. It may also represent the reward for many years of school or training. Experience has shown that someone with this vibration often meets success that is connected to people or places that are very different from those you grew up with. One thing is certain – this Pinnacle will land you in a "bigger" world than you've been used to.

Success under vibration Nine is seldom automatic, because this vibration has important keywords that have to do with what it attracts; finishing, ending and letting go. To succeed in this Pinnacle may require you to sacrifice something else in order to achieve it. Sometimes it's no more than a number of sleepless nights, but it could be a relationship, a home or even a lifestyle you've become accustomed to. Just be aware that as you attract the kind of opportunities you've been seeking, balance, integrity and love are irreplaceable, and cannot be exchanged for any material goal. Instead of rebelling against the idea that a sacrifice is demanded of you, sacrifice your bad habits of body, speech and mind. Give up the extra calories or other complications of your guilty pleasures. Then see how the successes of this nine-year period can help you create a new and self-directed future.

© 2022 Numerologist.com. All rights reserved.

YOUR THIRD PINNACLE: THE PINNACLE OF FOUNDATION

Some numerologists consider this to be the most important of the Pinnacles, because during these 9 years you will be constructing a foundation for the remainder of your life. Working with this Pinnacle can increase both the length and quality of your life, because your actions at this stage can help to attract the supportive and healthy biological and psychological conditions that are so important for developing energy and resilience as you age. Working against this Pinnacle by denying the opportunities that are attracted to you will only increase the kind of baggage that will slow you down on the road to happiness. A positive attitude toward yourself during this Pinnacle can go a long way in making your future quite pleasant.

Your Pinnacle Of Foundation Number

Matthew, your Third Pinnacle Number is 4.

With Four as the vibration of your Pinnacle of Foundation, Matthew, you are likely to be quite serious about building a solid structure for your future. If you face any limitations in the pursuit of doing so, they are likely to be self-imposed, whether you recognize them as such or not. Although you will probably experience everyday frustrations, you are more likely to find more lasting solutions for problems if you pay attention to details in all departments of life. You'll also probably put a lot of energy and thought into saving and/or investing with the future in mind, and developing a wellness program with the same basic idea.

If there is a problem with your financial situation during this Pinnacle, you will most likely be prepared for it; in fact, chances are good that you'll put some thought and effort into preparing for emergencies and taking care of your physical well-being. Patience, perseverance and practicality trump all other attitudes in making this time comfortable and fruitful. Don't expect any windfalls or lucky breaks during this time – the best luck that you have will be the luck that you've created for yourself.

© 2022 Numerologist.com. All rights reserved.

YOUR FOURTH PINNACLE: THE PINNACLE OF RETROSPECTION

The Fourth Pinnacle begins at the conclusion of the Third Pinnacle and lasts for the remainder of your lifetime. It is therefore not only a time for reflection, but also for harvesting all the benefits, knowledge, experience, well-being and prosperity which you've acquired so far into a coherent and self-sustaining whole that provides energy to fuel your inner life, your physical body, your drive and your motivation.

If you're lucky, this won't be a time laden with regret, but will rather be filled with opportunities to be who you really are, the sum total of everything you have gathered into your life and the things and circumstances that you've projected into the future. Your personal efforts will then be directed towards having the best quality of life possible. Many people become deeply involved in spiritual practices or philosophical interests during this part of their life.

Your Pinnacle Of Retrospection Number

Matthew, your Fourth Pinnacle Number is 3.

You can expect to have quite an enjoyable time during your Pinnacle of Retrospection, Matthew, because Three is a fortunate and lucky vibration to work with in the latter years. It is an omen of lively social activities and pleasant times with friends. You may find that you have more time to enjoy activities that you did not have time for before, and that you are entertaining and enjoying being entertained more than ever. There may be travel, and it's likely that you'll make new friends that will be of a lively and playful nature.

This is also a sign of a Pinnacle oriented toward good fortune and prosperity, not in the sense of being lucky with gambling or speculation (although it does not rule it out), but in terms of reaping the rewards of your experience and knowledge in a materialistic yet fulfilling way. You're likely to feel more creative and put more energy into expressing yourself than you're used to. New interests and experiences are likely to arise along with new people in your life, and the only thing you'll need to be concerned about is being distracted from the routines and plans that you've brought into this pinnacle with you. But again, this vibration is fortunate enough that you'll probably watch the mundane chores and such become automatic as your enjoyment of this pleasant Pinnacle grows.

YOUR PINNACLE SUMMARY

You should recognize by now how important your Pinnacles are. Being able to act in such a way that brings out the best aspects of these time periods can raise your life to a whole new level, one that is fulfilling and successful.

It doesn't matter whether you're in your 1st or your 4th Pinnacle — there are always ways to turn things around so that you can enjoy the gifts you were given at birth.

THE BIRTH DAY NUMBER

THE BIRTHDAY NUMBER: WHAT IT IS & HOW IT'S CALCULATED

The Birth Day Number is one of the 5 powerful core numbers in your numerology chart. It is sometimes referred to as the "Psychic" or "Ruling" Number because it reveals an in-depth understanding of your true self. In many ways, it explains the nature of your existence and makes sense of the events that unfold in your life.

How It's Calculated

Your Birth Day Number is calculated by reducing the sum of your birth day to a single digit.

Here's an example:

1. Someone born the 28th day of any month will have a Birth Day Number of 1.
2. We arrive at that number by adding the two digits of the birth day together.
3. So, 2 + 8 = 10
4. Since the result is a double digit sum, we continue adding until we arrive at a single digit.
5. So, 1 + 0 = 1
6. In this example, the Birth Day Number is 1.

Let's take a look at another example:

1. Someone born on the 15th of any month will have a Birth Day Number of 6.
2. Again, we add the two digits of the birth day together.
3. So, 1 + 5 = 6
4. Since a single digit sum is achieved with one calculation, no further addition is required.
5. In this example, the Birth Day Number is 6.

Here's one last example:

1. Someone born on the 7th day of any month will have a Birth Day Number of 7.
2. Since 7 is already a single digit, no calculations are needed.
3. In this example, the Birth Day Number is 7.

The Master Number Exception:

In the case of calculating the Birth Day Number, all numbers reduce to a single digit and the usual Master Number exception does not apply. That being said, if you have a Master Number in your Birth Day Number, your personalized reading takes this into account.

What Your Birth Day Number Reveals

Unlike the numbers derived from your name, your Birth Day Number will never change. It is a static number that interacts with your Life Path to create different vibrational cycles you'll naturally experience throughout the duration of your life. This number is so powerful, some expert numerologists suggest people change their name based on the Birth Day Number to improve their inherent luck and overall happiness.

The Birth Day Number has a strong influence on your Life Path, which must be accounted for in your reading. So we've included information not only about your specific Birth Day Number, but also examine how your unique Birth Day and Life Path Numbers combine to massively influence your life. Think of your Birth Day Number as a way to decode the shortest way to your ideal Life Path just like the degrees on a compass reveal the direction you're facing and the quickest path to your destination!

This number explains how you handle the opportunities and challenges that present themselves throughout your adult life. Intimately understanding and aligning with this vibration in your chart can help you make better and more empowering decisions in all areas of your life and open the road to more success, happiness and prosperity.

YOUR BIRTH DAY NUMBER

Matthew, your Birth Day Number is 5. You'll find that you function at your peak and are happiest in an atmosphere of constant change. This vibration attracts variety in all its forms, and this may include a great deal of travel and many surprises throughout life.

The freedom-loving nature of this vibration may present you with a career or lifestyle that requires whirlwind activity. It will certainly bring you the opportunity to "think on your feet"; you are, however, flexible enough to handle changing circumstances.

It also attracts these changes into other aspects of your life, such as relationships and other departments that bring pleasure to. Because of this, 5 is a Birth Day Vibration that draws out your ability to organize people and circumstances easily.

Sometimes others may think of you as unreliable, but when chaos ensues, you're likely to be the one who is capable of keeping their head. Nevertheless, you'll attract so many opportunities to try different things, some of which may lead to self-indulgent behaviors that may not be in your best interests, or those of others.

Since your Birth Day Vibration is Five and your Life Path is Eight, Matthew, you are not one to take tradition as a given, especially if it limits growth and productivity in business. Ideas like lateral co-management, collaborative software and social networking may be easy for you to grasp, because these ideas speak to mixing freedom and organization.

This applies to your personal life as well, where you can bring the spontaneity and variety into your relationships that keep the spark alive. You'll have the discipline to handle the changes you attract, but if you let your discipline flag, you could get involved in risky behaviors that can devastate your financial or romantic life. Chances are good that your particular genius will not go unacknowledged or unappreciated; your intelligence will take you far.

Since you were born on the 14th of the month, your Birth Day Vibration can be written as 14/5 because it has a special quality. In fact, 14 is a "Karmic Number", which means that it has a property of its own that is distinct from the vibrations that compose it, and from its Fadic number, 5. It is filled with the lure of creative pursuits or the spirit of adventure. It can make it easy for you to become overindulgent as well.

On a much lighter note, every Birth Day Number is said to have fortunate years, months and days associated with it, according to some of the older traditions.

This is an "old school" method that reduces all birthdates to their final single digit sum, which has proven to be effective for this purpose. According to this tradition, the years that reduce to 5 – such as the 5th, 14th, 23rd, 32nd, 41st, 50th, 59th, 68th, 77th, 86th and 95th years of life, should be your best years. Take note that the 14th year of your life begins on your 13th birthday, because the day you were born is the beginning of your 1st year of life; your first birthday is the beginning of your 2nd year of life, and so forth.

During May, June, August and September good fortune may come your way, but you should be careful about dietary matters and other physical stress during January, February, July and August. Some of the fortunate and stressful months overlap, but this is because your good fortune may come in the form of extra work, or difficulties connected with pursuing or completing a difficult but satisfying task, or having "too much fun."

Your most fortunate days of any month are the 5th, 14th, and 23rd, especially when they fall on a Wednesday, which is said to be your most favorable weekday.

Again, this is Numerological lore from old traditions, so have fun with it, but don't let opportunities pass you by, or fall prey to false promises just because it happens to be a certain month or day.

THE ACHIEVEMENT NUMBER

THE ACHIEVEMENT NUMBER: WHAT IT IS & HOW IT'S CALCULATED

The Achievement Number represents an extremely important vibrational pattern in your Numerology Chart. It acts in such a way that it provides certain challenges and their solutions for every other number.

Kevin Quinn Avery, D.Ms. was the first modern author to write at length about this chart element. He said:

"The Achievement is what must be accomplished in life... Until the Achievement is obtained, there will be tension in the life causing negativity."

He was not the only numerologist to place great importance on this number; some practitioners of the Chaldean school refer to this number as the 'Life Path', and only consider what we call the Life Path today as the first Personal Year.

When one attains the fullest expression of this number, obstacles to a prosperous and happy life become less difficult to work around or overcome. This truly exemplifies achievement in both the material and spiritual sense.

How To Calculate Your Achievement Number:

To calculate your Achievement Number, we used the formula below. Note: Achievement Numbers follow the standard 9 numbers used in Numerology (1-9), the Master Numbers (11, 22 and 33) and the Karmic Numbers (13, 14, 16 and 19).

Steps To Calculating Your Achievement Number:

1. Start by writing down the number of your day of birth.
2. Then, write the number of your month of birth.
3. Now we add them together.

If the sum of your birth month and birthday is between 1-9, you have found your Achievement Number.

4. If the sum of your birth month and birth day is a double digit number, continue to sum the digits until you arrive at a single-digit number between 1 and 9. Unless the resulting number is the Master Number 11, 22, or 33... or Karmic Numbers 13, 14, 16, or 19.

YOUR ACHIEVEMENT NUMBER

Matthew, your Achievement Number is 22.

Matthew, your Achievement Number is 4 for the purpose of comparing it to other single digit Fadic numbers, but actually expresses the Master Number 22. All numbers with double digits are called Master Numbers, and have special attributes all their own.

Having 22 as your Achievement Number is not always easy, because it attracts situations that lead you to believe in your special purpose or mission, but doesn't attract the resources you need to bring your plans to fruition. At the same time, you're a great organizer, and will probably see many ideas of yours brought into manifestation, as long as you're willing to "play ball" with those who can help with getting them kicked into gear.

Although you have a gift for seeing the big picture, you need to learn how to pay attention to the little details without becoming overwhelmed and getting lost in them. Honestly, Matthew, this isn't always the easiest vibration as far as relationships are concerned, because of the tendency to put projects and growth first. As long as you are not dependent on the approval of others, however, you should go ahead and follow through with your plans in the more sentimental areas of life, and never neglect them. Many people will appreciate and enjoy you because of your plans and ideas; you should never put them on the back burner.
